

B'teavon Launch Heat Resistant Silicone BBQ Gloves On Amazon

June 13, 2015

June 13, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Ephraim Mettabel Enterprise - an online provider of household supplies - announced the debut of their new Premium Heat Resistant Multipurpose Silicone BBQ Gloves under their brand "B'teavon" and their exclusive availability on the Amazon Marketplace in June 2015 in time for the Summer BBQ Season.

B'teavon Silicone BBQ Gloves are made of FDA (Food & Drug Administration) approved silicone and also a 100 percent food grade. The high quality silicone makes the gloves being extremely resistant to heat. They are able to withstand up to 446 degrees Fahrenheit. The heat resistant capabilities of the gloves will help avert user concerns over the ever present danger of burns. The silicone gloves are also 100 percent waterproof, which will prevent scolds when removing items from boiling water.

B'teavon Silicone BBQ Gloves can be used for multiple tasks such as baking, grilling, outside camping and double boiling as it serves as BBQ gloves, grilling gloves, cooking gloves and potholder.

The high quality silicone also makes the gloves extremely flexible and durable, therefore increasing their ability to be used for longer periods of time. Unlike the conventional cloth potholders that are used in the kitchen often tend to smell and easily get dirty. Even though they are washable, drying requires a long time and washing decreases their durability.

The anti-slip feature makes it much easier to hold equipment as it creates a stronger grip. This means the user does not have to worry about dropping equipment anymore, which was a normal feature in old fashioned oven mitts. Cleaning the gloves is also an effortless process as the anti-stain aspect of the gloves prevent the accumulation and adherence of dirt or grime. The gloves are also dishwasher friendly.

Special offer is available for individual who buy these Premium Heat Resistant Multipurpose Silicone BBQ Gloves.
