

Concepts of Spring Issue Findings On The Cutting Edge Of Child Safety In The Home

June 16, 2015

June 16, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Child accident prevention company Concepts of Spring have just issued the findings of a recent research. They discovered that every year literally millions of babies and young children end up in an Accident and Emergency Hospital Department because they have become injured by what they have ingested or played with in kitchens and homes across the world. Their results reveal that most escape with relatively minor problems. However, the lives of others are seriously altered by life threatening and life changing injuries that affect them traumatically and permanently. Interview comments suggest that in such cases, parents and grandparents carry the guilt and regret of those fateful days when they thought it would be OK to leave their baby or child for a few minutes playing in the kitchen, bedroom, bathroom or yard, only to run back after hearing their screams and find their child in a terrible condition.

The company go on to inform us that "...cupboards, drawers and storage facilities are like magnets to the inquisitive nature of children. They just love exploring these intriguing hideaways with all their fascinating bottles, tools, and sprays, but we all know that many of such products are extremely dangerous when handled incorrectly by innocent children. Guarding them from harm must surely be our highest priority, but without help, even the best parents will fail to watch them constantly as we'd need eyes in the back of our heads!"

They proclaim that there is help available to baby proof our homes in the form of their recently developed product that helps prevent small children accessing cupboards and drawers. They claim that their Spring Safe and Sound's magnetic child safety lock is designed to fit every cabinet draw and door and appears to be very effective at stopping even the most determined child entering it. Their website informs people that the ingenious design is completely undetectable when the door or drawer is closed. Apparently, a powerful magnetic key instantly unlocks it and the flick of an activation arm quickly activates it. It comes with updated and re-designed installation instructions and there is also a helpful video that takes you through the step by step process of installation.

They claim to have received rave reviews on Amazon.com from those who have bought and fitted them and their company website encourages all who are concerned about the safety of children, to take preventative steps before such nightmare scenarios happen.
