November 06, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vickers Grant Holdings, LLC, a business in Davie, FL, had recently launched a new ankle brace under its Athletica brand. They are now proud to announce that, within weeks of the launch, the product has already received numerous five star reviews from happy customers. The company stated that these were best ankle brace reviews and they highlight the key benefits offered by the product.

Alan Grant, co-owner and founder of Vickers Grant Holdings, LLC, says: "We're so happy to see that our customers love the new ankle brace. For the past decade, we have been offering our clients quality products that they can trust. The Athletica brand is our latest development and we're overjoyed by the fact that has been so well received. We look forward to hearing from more of our customers."

The product is currently available on Amazon. Because it has received so many positive reviews, it is now ranked as the best ankle brace in its category. In fact, to date, all reviews are five star reviews, with people who confess to usually not discussing their views on a product, feeling a need to share how happy they have been, as the product has significantly enhanced their lives. "I don't often write reviews but when I do ... seriously this brace has saved my ankle and has prolonged my desire to be active as I get older. It's firm, yet flexible and doesn't feel like you're losing blood to your toes for lack of circulation which for me and I assume for many others is key. I highly recommend this brace....," says an Amazon customer.

All other reviews indicated similar feelings. Customers found the ankle brace to be surprisingly comfortable and are mainly raving about the level of support it has given them. Some had sustained injuries to their ankle prior to purchasing this product and now find that their mobility has been significantly enhanced. Alan Grant adds: "We're really happy to see that our product is enabling people to remain physically active or to regain a degree of mobility that they had previously lost."

The ankle brace reviews are currently all listed on Amazon, where people are also encouraged to ask questions should they have any.
