

Bottle Tote With Extra Thick Neoprene Chosen By Mums To Keep Baby Milk At Temperature

June 29, 2015

June 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dunloor, a business in Lindfield, NSW, Australia, is proud to announce that their bottle tote has been chosen as best by moms looking to keep baby milk at the right temperature. While the tote has been designed to carry any type of bottle, they are happy to hear that it is also suitable for one of the most precious drinks of all. To celebrate, they have released their product on Amazon with a 36% discount, meaning it can now be purchased for just $15.25, instead of the usual $23.95.

"While we all love to have our wines and sports drinks at the correct temperature, keeping the temperature right for baby milk is perhaps the most important of all", says Emily Baxter from Dunloor. "After all, babies get all their nutrition from this milk, so it is vital that it is tasty and healthy and doesn't go off as well. We are so happy that mothers have acknowledged our bottle tote achieves that, that we have released it on a special offer for a limited time only."

The bottle tote is made from the thickest neoprene on the market today, being 5mm thick. This provides any bottle kept inside with proper insulation. As such, the temperature of the bottle is maintained for a much longer period of time than other products that are available.

The tote is incredibly versatile. While many people use it for their wines or beers at outdoor picnics, the fact that it has been chosen by mums shows that it can also be used for baby milk or any other product for that matter. The bag is designed to keep the temperature of the bottle steady, be that cold, hot or lukewarm. Indeed, Dunloor believes that the use of the tote is limited only by the imagination of the user.

Because the neoprene is so thick, the bag also protects the bottles contained inside. It can safely hold glass bottles without them banging into each other or other things and breaking. Furthermore, it has a soft but very strong handle for easy and safe carrying. The bag is also machine wash safe, so it is very easy to clean.

Since its release, the bottle tote has received many positive reviews. "This bottle tote is wonderful!!!", says one happy customer. "I recently started using glass bottles instead of plastic and with this tote I know my glass bottle has extra protection when I'm out and about. With the dual pockets I can also transport an extra bottle."

The Jeeves Bottle Tote is becoming increasingly popular and, with the current special offer, it is selling quickly. People are encouraged, therefore, to get theirs quickly as the offer is only on while stocks last.
