Fitness Therapy is a newly launched company in Walsall, the West Midlands, United Kingdom. The company was originally founded in 2016 with the goal of being a market leader in injury compression wear apparel. After a period of research and development, they have now been able to open their doors with the flagship product being an ankle compression sleeve. The company has also stated that more products are already being developed.

Stephen Walker, spokesperson for Fitness Therapy, says: "It all started with a simple plan to develop superior compression wear that was suitable for all sporting and outdoor activities, and also products to ease the pain of injury and make everyday use a cinch for athletes and outdoor types. We are proud to announce that we believe we have achieved that with the Fitness Therapy Ankle Support Sleeve."

The team at Fitness Therapy HQ are dedicated and fully committed to providing the very best compression wear products, focusing particularly on the ankle sleeve at present. At the same time, they strive to deliver the best possible customer service. This has translated in highly competitive prices, timely delivery, and more, with the customer being at the forefront at all times. Walker adds: "We are passionate about sports, our products, and about the people we serve around the world. Fitness Therapy's mission is simple: that is, to provide the best quality and most effective compression wear to men, women and children in order to aid injury recovery for all athletes and outdoor enthusiasts."

The compression sock offered by the new company will be available on Amazon. At the same time, the company has started a social media marketing campaign in an effort to connect more directly with customers and the public. This is seen, for instance, in their Facebook page, which is already gaining in popularity. Through this page, they aim to share important information not just about their company and products, but also about overall health, the importance of compression socks, fitness, and more. Walker states: "We encourage everyone to like our Facebook page and connect directly with us to join in the conversation."
