Pensacola, FL ? Fred Genkin, owner of Titan Sunrooms in Pensacola, FL. has raised the bar with with a new Colorbeam framing system. Sunrooms in Pensacola FL are a popular in the local community but consumers were starting to get unhappy with the materials available through other businesses.

Titan Sunrooms has created their own framing system to help provide customers with the utmost quality service. The criteria for creating this innovative material hinged on combining four essential components: durability, strength, aesthetics and value.

?We believe in creating products that are built better than ?The way they used to be,? Fred Genkin said. ?If we can?t improve a product based on our four cornerstones of durability, strength, aesthetics and value we simply won?t pursue it.?

The Colorbeam Framing System is a family of specially designed aerospace grade aluminum alloy framing profiles. These shapes combine a heat tempering process with structural design elements to produce a framing material that is stronger and more durable than traditional building materials.

?We have become accustomed to shorter and shorter product life cycles in a throw away society that values cost over everything else,? Genkin states. He believes being able to provide customers with the highest quality is imperative to his businesses success.

While traditional materials such as steel, vinyl and wood will always have their place, Colorbeam provides the best alternative for Pensacola FL screen rooms that demand the highest level of performance at an affordable price point. Pound for pound stronger than traditional aluminum, Colorbeam truly is stronger by design.
