Flawless Faces by LorenzTroy has employed simplicity and purity by launching its latest body and skin care product made of pure Shea Butter. The Ivory Shea Butter made from handpicked nuts from Shea Trees in Ghana, Africa, has proved to be an instant success with customers since its recent launch on Amazon. The launch compliments other products in the skin and body care collection also sold by LorenzTroy on their Amazon store.

LorenzTroy sources the ingredients from Ghana in Africa, where, nuts are picked by the local village women. After being processed locally, the Shea Butter is filtered before being shipped to the U.S. Upon arrival, the butter is filtered again to remove and remaining contaminants ensuring a smooth consistent texture of the cream. The Shea Butter is sold in 16 ounces jars with a complimentary wooden spoon for application. Since the product is finished and sold in the U.S., it ensures that all local quality standards are met effectively.

Shea Butter is rich in minerals and vitamins, making it beneficial for use as a nourishing cream for both hair and skin. The vitamin E along with vitamin K present in the cream provides strong antioxidant properties making it effective in reducing toxins in skin and improving healing of scars and stretch marks. In addition, other vitamins present in Shea Butter like vitamin A promotes reproduction of healthy cells. Vitamin F present in the cream, is not naturally produced in the body and is necessary for increasing the metabolism of certain tissues like skin, hair and nails. These ingredients present in Shea Butter make it an excellent all inclusive product for skin as well as hair care.

The Ivory African Shea Butter by LorenzTroy is sold as a grade-A unrefined product available in a dark tinted jar. The grade of unrefined Shea Butter indicates the product quality and ingredient quantity in the mixture. Grade-A being the purest level, shows that a high number of nuts have been used in the production of the cream. Since Shea Butter is widely used in beauty products, some customers also use it in making their own home made lotions and balms. Being a natural product, customers benefit from the tinted jar which reduces sunlight from entering and therefore, increases its storage life. Offering a satisfaction guarantee, LorenzTroy provides customers the option of a full refund if they are not happy with the product. However, the feedback received from customers has been overwhelmingly positive, scoring a 4.9 rating out of 5 on Amazon.
