LuxeOrganix of Mesa, Arizona has announced that its hallmark hair care product set will be offered at a promotional price on Amazon.com. The announcement comes in the light of increased demand for reliable and effective hair care products due to the expanded availability of low quality alternatives. Such alternatives often cause damage to the hair and scalp resulting in customers looking for a solution to rectify the harm induced. The Rejuvenating Argan Oil Shampoo and Conditioner set by LuxeOrganix has enabled a number of customers to reverse the effects of harsh chemicals as well as counterfeit Argan oil products. This promotion is likely to see more people taking advantage of the opportunity to buy the hair care set.

Even professional hair stylists are raving about the morocco oil shampoo and conditioner, including licensed cosmetologist Jenea Ortiz, saying,

"I love this shampoo and conditioner. I am a licensed cosmetologist and I think this is one of the best products I have ever tried. My husband is allergic to many products, he has used this for nearly a month and his scalp loves it. Normally his scalp is very dry and flaky, now it is almost normal again. He and I both really love this line, and it smells great as well."

With summer well under way, the sales for hair protection products have been steadily increasing. Being a natural antioxidant and ample source for various vitamins and fatty acids, Argan oil has become a natural choice for customers looking for protection from the sun's harsh UV rays. Argan oil is derived from seeds harvested from Argan trees in Morocco and is processed locally. The traditional role of harvesting Argan seeds has usually been undertaken by women in the south Morocco region.

However, due to the exclusivity of the Argan tree, the price of its oil is generally high compared to other oils. This has resulted in a growing market of cheaper counterfeit Argan oil products including shampoos, conditioners, soaps and cosmetics. These counterfeit products often contain harsh chemicals and are imported by private users looking for a low cost solution to their needs. Eventually, when the damage caused to their hair and scalp become obvious, they turn to genuine Morocco shampoo and conditioner products made with authentic Argan oil sourced from reliable sources. The Rejuvenating Argan Oil Shampoo and Conditioner by LuxeOrganix are made from Argan oil imported from Morocco and manufactured in the U.S., therefore, ensuring they meet the highest quality standards.

LuxeOrganix has pledged to their customers that their shampoo and conditioner are free from harmful chemicals, such as sulfates, parabens and sodium chloride, to prevent damage to the scalp and hair. The shampoo used in conjunction with their conditioner, channel the UV and thermal protection offered by Argan oil. The oil is absorbed into the hair and scalp reducing itchiness, dandruff and improving the general health of the hair. A review posted on Amazon by a customer reaffirms their guarantee, "I have both dry hair and scalp. I started using these products about two weeks ago and have seen a tremendous improvement. My hair is softer and has a glossy shine. My dry flaky scalp has greatly improved as well."
