

Ankle Brace Promo Code Provided For Special Offer

November 13, 2017

November 13, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vickers Grant Holdings, LLC has recently launched a new ankle compression sleeve or brace that has been design to provide lift and support for the arch. They have now announced that, to celebrate this launch, it has been made available on a BOGOF (Buy One Get One Free) offer. This offer is for a limited time only and while stocks last. The ankle brace promo code for the BOGOF offer is automatically applied at checkout on Amazon.

Alan Grant from Vickers Grant Holdings, LLC says: "Our product has only recently been made available, yet it has already received numerous positive reviews. One the comments we have received, however, was that since people have two ankles, it would be better if the braces were available as a pair. We have decided, therefore, to continue with our launch celebrations and to make it available on a buy one get one free offer."

The brace is available in the three standard sizes of small, medium, and large, and should therefore fit most individuals. It is designed to comfortably lift and support the arch using reinforced side stabilizers. The ankle brace is also fitted with adjustable closures and side straps. This ensures that it can fit comfortably to the shape of the wearer's ankle and foot.

Those who have already purchased the ankle brace have mentioned how comfortable it is, and how easy it is to use. Many have found that it has significantly improved their mobility and, thus, their motivation to stay active in the gym. "I don't often write reviews but when I do ... seriously this brace has saved my ankle and has prolonged my desire to be active as I get older. It's firm, yet flexible and doesn't feel like you're losing blood to your toes for lack of circulation which for me and I assume for many others is key. I highly recommend this brace if you want the support and stability needed to keep active..." says an Amazon customer.

Thanks to the many positive reviews received so rapidly since the launch, the product is already listed as the best ankle brace on Amazon. Now that the BOGOF offer has been made available, it is expected that it will further solidify that position.
