Miami Landscaping Company No Longer Offers Tree Trimming Services

November 09, 2017

November 09, 2017 -
Miami, Fla. ? The Billy Goat, a leading company for landscaping in Miami, FL, has recently announced that it is no longer including tree trimming in its list of available services.

Tree trimming is the act of trimming and pruning dead or broken branches and limbs from trees that can cause vision obstruction or lead to hazards such as falling on a home. The Billy Goat has informed the public that it is no longer offering this service, but that customers should look into additional services like commercial landscaping and lawn maintenance to get the job done.

The owner of The Billy Goat, Danny Macias, said, ?We just felt that a step away from tree trimming was the best move in our interest and for our company.?

From residential and commercial landscaping to full-service lawn maintenance and landscape installation, the expert in landscape design in Miami, FL, has it covered. Dubbed Miami?s premier residential and commercial landscaper, The Billy Goat makes it a priority to provide excellent customer service and quality results.

?We have an array of services that stand out among the landscaping competition in the area,? Danny said. ?We want to center our focus on that and really bring landscaping back to the forefront of Miami?s greatest homes.?
