November 19, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Zoe Paws, a business in Austin, TX, has recently launched a new dog glucosamine product. To celebrate this, the company has announced that the product is currently available on a BOGOF (buy one get one free) offer. This offer requires a promo code and is for a limited time only and while stocks last.

Joe Jarrett, spokesperson for Zoe Paws, says: "Our dog glucosamine product is 100% natural and designed to help improve the health and quality of life of our favorite four legged companions. To celebrate the product's launch and initial success, it is now available on a BOGOF offer. This way, even more customers - and particularly their dogs - can enjoy the assistance that it can provide for better dog health."

To take advantage of the BOGOF offer, people will simply need to enter the dog glucosamine promo code at checkout. With the product being available on Amazon, this is done for them. Hence, when people add two products to their basket, one will be offered for free.

While only recently launched, the product is already gathering a lot of attention. This is because the product is in the form of dog chews, which means that it is enjoyable and tasty for dogs to eat. The hip and joint supplement has been found to help in increasing a dog's mobility in a natural way. The product is also 100% Made in the USA and free from gluten, salt, soy, sugar, and corn. Hence, it is equally suitable for dogs with special dietary needs.

Those who have tried the supplement for their dogs so far have been very happy with it, with some even calling it the best dog glucosamine product around. They praise its benefits, including the fact that it is all natural and available as a chew, and the fact that it contains a higher concentration compared to other MSM supplements available on the market today, as well as the fact that it is so easy to take. "The higher levels of glucosamine and MSM (vital for joint health) in Zoe Paws versus other brands was my deciding factor for purchasing. It has really relieved the stiffness for my sweet Lexi. Moving much more like a puppy now and lovin life. Thank you Zoe Paws...", says an Amazon customer.
