The Directory of US Immigration Lawyers is a website that is operated out of Sacramento, CA. Its aim is to build a complete national directory of lawyers that deal with immigration cases. They are now proud to announce that they have completed work on the Los Angeles section, having added all immigration attorneys in Los Angeles.

"We always knew that Los Angeles was going to be one of our biggest pieces of work," says Ms Sheri Summers from the Directory of US Immigration Lawyers. "That being said, it is also one of the geographical areas where there is the greatest need for these types of lawyers. Because of the USCIS (United States Citizenship and Immigration Services) and how strict they are, people really need all the help they can get and we aim to offer the best service that we can provide."

Immigration lawyers are an important resource for visas, deportation issues, and other sticky problems during turbulent times. Since the new Administration has started, the process has also become even more strict and a great deal more unfriendly. The USCIS scrutinizes even the smallest details and often sends applications back just because of minute errors. These are some of the key reasons why working with an immigration lawyer is so important.

"Make no mistake about it, the immigration laws of the US are very convoluted," adds Ms Sheri Summers. "This is why it takes an expert in immigration law such as our licensed immigration attorneys in order to fully understand the intricacies of this subject matter. In fact, even Americans would not dare touch immigration laws unless they need to help a relative gain entry into the US through family immigration. It is considered by law school professors and students alike to be one of the toughest subjects to study and is second only to taxation in terms of complexity."

The Los Angeles section of the website not only lists the various immigration lawyers in the said area, but it also lists various other key pieces of information. Furthermore, it regularly shares news items that are relevant to immigration. People are encouraged, therefore, to bookmark the website so they never miss these key pieces of information.
