ProH2O is a company in Amersham, Buckinghamshire, the United Kingdom, whose recently released hydration backpack has been receiving a lot of great feedback. With the numerous positive reviews that have been made by customers, the company has clearly set itself apart as a provider of really dependable and useful product, especially for active people who need to keep themselves hydrated.

Simon Ellicott, a spokesperson for ProH2O, says: "We're very happy to see so many people are enjoying our product and making good use of it. We wanted to create something that would support people in enjoying outdoor pursuits. Our backpack is designed to enable them to bring more water without becoming burdened by its weight, thereby always staying hydrated. It also has space for other things such as glucose snacks. Our aim is to make sure that people can get the greatest benefit from their outdoor activities."

Many people who take part in outdoor activities, such as hiking and walking, find that they are limited by how far they can push themselves because they are not able to bring enough water. Hydration is vital to being able to continue with a sport and remain healthy. The ProH2O product aims to improve that by enabling people to comfortably carry enough water with them. This level of comfort is something that has particularly stood out to people and is regularly mentioned in various hydration backpack reviews that the product has received so far. "The pack is well constructed and well thought out. The shoulder straps are comfortable and durable. I especially like the elastic band built into the sternum strap. Side pockets are large enough for anything you'd want to bring along on a run or ride. Also the pack has decent aerodynamic properties if that's something you're concerned about..." says an Amazon customer.

While the product has only been available for a short period of time, it has already received numerous positive reviews with the result that it now ranks as a five star item on Amazon. It is also listed as the best hydration backpack due to the fact that so far, all reviews have been five star reviews. People are encouraged to read the reviews or contact ProH2O if they have further questions about the hydration backpack.
