November 21, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

PhL (Precious, Honored, Loved) Naturals, a premium natural skincare brand, that makes natural skin care products backed by science to promote rejuvenation, has announced the launch of a new promotional offer as a part of their upcoming new website launch.

"These are products that are crafted with love," said Sharon Atukwatse, Founder and Owner of PhL Naturals. "Like most people, I've always been health conscious when it comes to food, but I never thought about what I was putting on my skin. Our skin absorbs everything we put on it, and the amount of chemicals in our common products today is alarming. I wanted to do something about that."

Afflicted by a hormonal medical condition that impacts one's daily well being, Atukwatse has discovered that consuming healthy and natural products is the best way to combat the condition, with a special emphasis on using the best ingredients when it comes to skin care products.

Shoppers can find the likes of Advanced Retinol Cream with Hyaluronic Acid, After-Shave Lotion for Men, Anti-Aging Cream Moisturizer with Hyaluronic Acid, Complete Eye Rescue for Dark Circles and Puffy Eyes, as a part of the website's catalog.

PhL Naturals is also home to a fully informational blog and FAQ that strives to answer every consumer's question regarding skincare in general and the ingredients in their natural products.

"We're a no-nonsense, organic skincare platform that relies on the power of naturally occurring plants and resources to make our products," said Atukwatse. "There's no need for thousands of chemicals when we have everything we need right through Mother Nature. Spread the word on our upcoming storewide sale, just in time for the holidays."
