December 04, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Leader in Executive Coaching in Hong Kong ready to lead with authenticity.

Hong Kong based Wong Global Leadership unveils unique approach to transform businesses with Whole-Self Leadership Coaching.

Wong Global Leadership is pleased to announce that WongLeadership.com has launched a brand new website featuring the Integral Growth Model ? a unique approach to Leadership Development in Hong Kong that encompasses eight areas of intrinsic and extrinsic development for whole-self leadership. The approach has empowered leaders worldwide find the sustainable change they seek to fulfill transformative and authentic leadership within themselves and businesses.

Founded by accredited Hong Kong-based international executive coach Angie Wong, these coaching and leadership programs were developed over many years of her coaching and facilitation experience. The mission of Wong Global Leadership is to create authentic leaders who make lasting change in businesses and organizations through executive coaching, leadership development, and women?s leadership programs.

The new website has been designed to reflect this mission through interesting and relevant content for professionals.

Wong Global Leadership focuses on effective, sustainable, and transformational leadership through its executive coaching, leadership development, and women's leadership programs. With a unique approach and methodology that encompasses eight modules, from leading intrinsically with purpose and emotional intelligence to leading extrinsically with influence and social intelligence, Wong Global Leadership inspires professionals to lead from within by developing physical, intellectual, emotional, and spiritual intelligence, resulting in authentic leaders who are effective, influential, and impactful.

Using a wide range of 360 assessments, EQ assessments, personality tests and psychometric tests including Myers-Briggs, FIRO-B, Leadership Circle Profiling, Hogan and many more, Wong Global Leadership develops custom programs for leaders, executives, and organizations based on their leadership style and needs.
