

New Wyoming Company Launched To Offer Compression Socks Designed For Comfort

December 27, 2017

December 27, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Anti Odor Sport is a new company in Sheridan, Wyoming that has announced its official launch. The company is offering compression socks, which will be used by sports enthusiasts and travelers to help them avoid tired legs and feet. The company is currently offering these socks that are designed for comfort on the Amazon marketplace.

Janet Johnson, a spokesperson for Anti Odor Sport says, "We are a company that provides socks to make you feel great, whether you are traveling, hiking or just working out. We want you to do what you love doing and not worry about feeling tired and sore feet at the end of the day."

Johnson says that their compression socks are not only designed help to relieve fatigue and soreness, but they also help to keep odor down. The company states that anyone who participates in extreme sports knows that at the end of a workout, sweat can cause their feet to have an unpleasant odor. Socks by Anti Odor Sport are specifically designed to help alleviate this problem by warding off odor while still offering the support that wearers need to keep their feet and legs feeling good.

"Your comfort is our main concern," says Johnson. "We want to provide you with the most support possible while you are doing what you love doing. To us, it's all about feeling good, no matter what you do throughout the day. We want you to be happy and we do that with our amazing compression socks that help reduce pressure as well as odor."

The company states that their socks are now available for purchase on the Amazon marketplace in the United States. They also have a Facebook page set up so that consumers can learn more about their new socks and hear from others who have ordered and are currently wearing them. Those who are interested in learning more about this new company and the products that they are providing can visit them on their Amazon seller's page or their official website. The company is based in Wyoming but their compression socks will be shipped all over the United States. They state that those interested can also stay updated on any new products that they will be rolling out by visiting their Facebook page.

###

For more information about Anti Odor Sport, contact the company here: Anti Odor Sport Janet Johnson 573-579-7937 support@AntiOdorSport.com 30 N Gould Suite 4004 Sheridan WY 82801

Anti Odor Sport

Anti Odor Sport is a company of socks - not just ANY sock - socks that make their customers feel great. The company is committed to providing their customers the most support while they are enjoying their most extreme activities.

Website: <http://www.AntiOdorSport.com>

Email: support@AntiOdorSport.com

Phone: 573-579-7937

