

Shed Ninja Delivers Relief From Rogue Pet Fur With Dog Brushes For Shedding

June 29, 2015

June 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Oroville, CA based company, Shed Ninja, has announced that they will be launching 3 new pet grooming products this month. Currently, the company has one successful product in their 2 in 1 Shedding Brush, which launched in Fall of last year. Now they have reported that they are hoping to take the pet grooming industry by storm with their latest brush and comb models. All of these products can be seen through the company's website, which is located at <http://ShedNinja.com>

The three new products are described as a Double Sided Brush, Double Sided Comb, and Double Sided Sticker Brush, which offers two sizes. All of these Shed Ninja products can be used on both dogs and cats for all grooming and brushing purposes. Although the current brush utilizes a stainless steel shedding blade, which gets beneath the top coat to remove loose fur that is hidden from other competitor brushes, it is also described as being very gentle on animal skin. The company has said the following regarding what their current brush does to help pets and pet owners:

"The undercoat rake with longer teeth effectively reaches through the topcoat and brushes out the loose, tangled and dirty fur underneath, removing dead hair before it collects all over the floor for greater ease of clean-up. An undercoat tool can be used more frequently than stripping rakes as it is gentle on the animal's skin and won't create sores or irritation even if used daily."

Shed Ninja gives consumers the chance to see what the company is all about through their various online social media feeds. They invite individuals to visit their Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/shedninjafor dogsandcats> to see photos of their products at work, read what other customers have to say about their brush, and to learn about upcoming promotions and product launches before anybody else does.

For daily posts about fun and inspiring pet stories, dog and cat images, and convenient links to pet products and services, Shed Ninja also supplies customer interaction through their Twitter page, located at <https://twitter.com/ShedNinjaBrush> Both social media accounts give further insight into, not only the high quality products available, but the company as a whole, and their beliefs on kindness and proper care toward pets. One happy customer explains her experience with the currently available tool, in saying:

"This is the best deshedding tool I've ever owned. It's easy to use and does not harm your pet's skin. I have hardwood floors so every piece of hair that comes off my dogs shows up on the floor. I have to sweep and mop multiple times a day. After using this deshedding tool I've noticed much less hair on the floor throughout the day. (less work for me). this product is absolutely amazing."

Shed Ninja has been very open about their passion for helping animals, and to educate pet owners on better methods of grooming and caring for their pet's coats. The three new brush products available this month will reportedly give even more opportunity for dog and cat lovers to give their furry companions what they need most in terms of hygiene.

###

For more information about Shed Ninja, contact the company here: Shed Ninja Victoria O'Hare 136 Bryden Way Oroville, CA 95966

Shed Ninja

Shed Ninja is a family run pet grooming tool company based in Northern California. We offer quality pet grooming tools to assist pet owners keep their pets hair shinny, healthy and reduce shedding.

Website: <http://ShedNinja.com>

Powered by PressAdvantage.com