Staying out of trouble and staying safe during the holiday season goes hand in hand. This season like any other is one of utmost importance, so ensuring that customers and clients know the effects of their actions is a key goal for the Gross & Schuster, P.A. team. Recently, the team has released a set of valuable tips to stave off the occurrence of an unfortunate holiday fiasco.

Gross & Schuster, P.A. owner Terence Gross said, ?It?s our priority to let the people we work with know about the issues associated with holiday fun. The more they know, the better equipped they will be to enjoy Christmas and New Year?s.?

The accident lawyers in Crestview suggest playing it safe when having in-home fun. That includes keeping candles in a safe place, maintaining fireplaces, and even monitoring and unplugging electrical outlets to avoid the calamity of Christmas tree fires. When out in public, Gross & Schuster, P.A. reminds individuals to avoid drunk driving or texting and driving and that shoplifting is always a bad idea. These tips and more will help any person in the Christmas spirit enjoy a boastful holiday season.

?We want to wish a happy holiday season to the people in our community that make what we do so worth it,? Gross said. ?Now let?s gear up for a promising 2018!?
