Bathurst Smash Repairs Company Places Spotlight On Safe Repair Techniques

Ray Morcoms Auto Body Repairs, a business in Bathurst, NSW, has always had a focus on safety. This is also why, as an auto body repair shop, they have enforced the most stringent safety procedures at every level of their work. They are proud to announce that this has earned them a reputation as having some of the best panel beaters and spray painters in the area. Full details about the business and their commitment to safety can be obtained at www.raymorcoms.com.au.

Andrew Morcom, owner and managing director of the business, says: "Modern cars have a number of highly complex safety features. These can only be maintained after an accident if the panel beaters are trained and have the appropriate level of technology and equipment. Otherwise, the car will not react the same way in a subsequent collision and endanger passengers' lives. We have fully reviewed the training of our staff and retrained them where necessary, and we're happy to see that our customers have been appreciative of this."

Modern vehicles are very sophisticated and they now require extensive investment on the part of the smash repairer to be able to return these cars to their pre-accident condition. No longer is it sufficient to make a vehicle look the same aesthetically, it has to actually react in the same manner as the original vehicle. This is why Ray Morcoms Auto Body Repairs focuses on always meeting all the relevant OEM specifications.

"We have completed approximately 50 courses and sat 50 exams; each of our tradesmen are required to complete and pass rigorous training for the shop to be accredited," says Andrew Morcom. "Ray Morcoms Auto Body Repairs is the only shop in the Central West to be awarded I-CAR GOLD accreditation. This is a testament to our commitment to quality, safety and to always doing the right thing by our customers."

People whose vehicles have been damaged in accidents or collisions are encouraged to contact Ray Morcoms Auto Body Repairs as soon as possible. The work is guaranteed to be completely up to standard, performed by highly trained, accredited technicians every step of the way.
