New Blog by Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center Offers Tips for Getting the Best Breast Augmentation Results

January 10, 2018

January 10, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Baltimore, MD - In a recent blog post, Dr. Schreiber of Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center suggests a few things to keep in mind when choosing the right breast implants that will both achieve the desired results and highlight one's natural figure. He claims many come to his office with unrealistic expectations which can lead to unsatisfactory results.

The blog is meant to tell readers that it is important to distinguish between cup size and implant size. Bra sizes are not uniform and can vary from brand to brand and by style, whereas implant sizes are uniform and are measured in cubic centimeters of volume. The staff at Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center hope that knowing important pieces of information like that will help patients make the right decision when deciding on breast augmentation.

Dr. Schreiber uses his platform on <http://www.baltimoreplasticsurgery.com> to educate the public about recent advances in plastic and cosmetic surgery. He explains that while there is a lot of information on the internet concerning cosmetic procedures, not all of it is reliable and he wanted to add the point of view of a professional to help guide his patients.

Dr. Jeffrey Schreiber performs everything from breast augmentation to facial rejuvenation in Baltimore. Anyone with questions regarding cosmetic surgery, including a facelift in Baltimore, or who would like to schedule a consultation can contact Baltimore Plastic Surgery.
