Cruvina, providers of shatterproof plastic glassware, announced today that their set of four Tritan plastic wine glasses have a comfort spill-guard rim.

Cruvina Co-Founder Erin Moore explains: "Some plastic drinkware can be made of a lower quality plastic which is thin and flimsy. As a result, the rim of the glass may be sharp and uncomfortable to drink from. This can also result in the drink dribbling down the glass or even the chin. We decided that our customers deserved better, so we designed our stemless wine glasses with a high-grade plastic, as well as a comfort spill-guard rim. This means that the rim is comfortable to drink from and does not dribble.?"

Cruvina plastic wine glasses are made from Tritan plastic by Eastman. This is a high-quality, food-grade, BPA-free polymer that looks like glass. Though lightweight, the plastic is thick and strong enough not to shatter when dropped, so they can be used to serve drinks in any setting, indoors and out.

The wine glasses have an elegant design that fits comfortably in the hand. Further, the glasses have two very distinct features: a rim design that feels comfortable to the mouth and prevents the liquid from dribbling, and a sturdy base without a stem which prevents the glass from tipping over easily. They are dishwasher-safe, so they maintain their crystal clear look after repeated use and washing. The glasses can be used to hold many different kinds of drinks in addition to wine, such as cocktails, soda, juice or even water.

Says Ms. Moore, "Our goal is to provide our customers with plastic drinkware that enhances the drinking experience in all ways. From being cost-effective and safe to being elegant and just plain comfortable and fun to drink from.?"

Customers agree. One has stated "One of my favorite purchases! These are sturdy yet lightweight, with smooth lip (other similar products with sharp rim), and really do look like glass. I use them at home both inside and outside, and they are great for travel.?"

A set of four reusable 13-ounce Cruvina stemless wine glasses can be purchased on Amazon for $24.97 and comes with a 30-day money-back guarantee.
