June 27, 2014 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

COQUITLAM BC, Canada, June 25, 2014 ? JVZoo is holding its second annual Marketing Mayhem Live 2014 conference in Orlando, Florida, August 28th through the 31st. The conference is billed as the number one internet marketing event of the year, with workshops, networking opportunities, and live presentations by some of the leading figures in the industry. Due to the success of last year's event, attendees are urged to secure their Marketing Mayhem ticket as early as possible.

The primary focus of the event is Online Affiliate Marketing. Panel leaders and attendees represent a wide cross-section of successful internet marketing entrepreneurs. Those who wish to make valuable business connections will appreciate the ample networking time provided by the event structure. An atmosphere of fun and excitement pervades the conference, setting the tone for building positive business relationships.

Past attendees have seen considerable returns from their investment in Marketing Mayhem Live tickets. A wealth of valuable insights and methodology is offered by thought leaders in online affiliate marketing. Business partnerships and friendships formed over the course of the conference can result in powerful strategic advantages. Joint ventures and compelling new initiatives are launched among the internet marketing experts in attendance. Those who are interested in forming mastermind groups for long-term consultation will find many fellow masterminds available for discussion.

Those who are new to online affiliate marketing are invited to attend Marketing Mayhem Live 2014 to learn more about the industry and determine what steps are needed to build a successful internet marketing business. Web-savvy professionals who wish to cultivate a location-independent lifestyle are increasingly finding that internet marketing is the best way to earn a reliable income. Workers with niche expertise are looking to internet marketing as a way to subsidize early retirement. Those who embrace the adventure of a travel lifestyle have the ability to earn a top income anywhere they are in the world, by mastering online marketing.
