Gross & Schuster, P.A. an accident attorney in Pensacola, FL, is proud to announce that it is one of the few law firms in the area who seek damages from multiple sources after accidents. They pride themselves in making their clients their priority, ensuring that they receive all the compensation they are entitled to. This dedication is offered to all clients, regardless of the type of accident they have been involved in.

Terrence A. Gross, partner in Gross & Schuster, P.A., says: "Our success in vehicle accident cases is due in part to our commitment to finding all sources of liability. In addition to the drivers, the owners of vehicles may be held responsible if someone else causes an accident in their cars. Employers may be liable for their drivers who cause accidents."

Uniquely, the firm looks into the most minute of details for each of their cases. For instance, they will investigate liability for aggravation of pre-existing injuries, something most other attorneys will never venture into. Furthermore, they seek punitive damages in vehicular homicide and drunk driving cases and, where appropriate, they seek damages in uninsured motorist cases for resident relatives who are not on the vehicle owner's policy.

"We work with medical experts, including surgeons, radiologists, orthopedic doctors, pain management doctors and chiropractors, to determine your past and future medical needs," adds Terrence A. Gross, the firm's main personal injury lawyer in Pensacola. "We may also consult with life-care planners and economists to calculate lost income and additional financial needs."

Gross & Schuster is a highly rated law firm due to its dedication to each client's case. This has earned them A+ accreditation from the Better Business Bureau, as well as Client's Choice with Avvo. Indeed, the firm has received a multitude of positive reviews. Robert, for instance, says on the firm's website: "I could not be more satisfied in my experience with Gross & Schuster after a severe car accident left me with a mountain of medical bills and insurance headaches. Not only were they able to get me the compensation I deserved, they were extremely easy to work with and kept me very well informed long the way. I could not imagine going through the experience without their help."
