

Amazing Assets Introduces Canvas Messenger Bag With Extended Product Guarantee

December 30, 2015

December 30, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Amazing Assets LLC, a business in Tampa, FL, have just released an extended product guarantee for their canvas messenger bag. Those who register their details after making a purchase are able to access this guarantee, as well as a variety of other bonuses. It is hoped that this will encourage more people to purchase not just the messenger bag, but other products as well.

"We stand behind the quality of our product 100%", says Robert Kaplan from Amazing Assets LLC. "As such, we are confident in offering an extended product guarantee, because we know it is unlikely anyone will ever need it. To make sure people still feel that they are valued customers, however, we have also included a range of other bonuses for those who register for the extended product guarantee."

The extended product guarantee means that the canvas shoulder bag is guaranteed not for 90 days, but for a full year. If, in that time, something goes wrong with the bag, customers can contact Amazing Assets LLC and have the issue resolved. It is very uncommon for businesses to offer such a long guarantee on bags, simply because bags are heavy usage items and likely to get damaged through this heavy usage.

The first bonus that those who register receive is the single use 20% off coupon. This means that if they wish to purchase a second canvas shoulder bag, or any other Amazing Assets product, they will receive it at a 20% discount. This also enables people to purchase a second bag as a gift for someone else.

"People absolutely love our bags and they often return for a second one for someone else in the family," adds Robert Kaplan. "We really want to say thank you for this, which is why we offer the 20% discount for a second purchase to all our customers who have registered their messenger bag."

Finally, those who register will be update with any new product releases. As soon as a new product is released, they will be able to purchase it with 50% off as well. Each time a new canvas messenger bag, shoulder bag, toiletry bag or other type of product is released, they will receive a single use coupon to make a purchase. The company hopes that this will help them introduce any new products to the market quicker, as well as being another opportunity to thank their loyal customers for their continued trust in the company.

The messenger bag has been designed to fit most standard size laptops with ease. It is a canvas but waterresistant material, allowing the laptop to be carried around safely even if it is raining. In stylish green, this bag is the perfect accessory.
