February 12, 2018

February 12, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Maryland breast augmentation expert, Dr. Jeffrey Schreiber, is pleased to announce the arrival of a new breast implant. The new implant is known as the Mentor Xtra Smooth MemoryGel and it will be available to patients at his clinic in Baltimore. The new implants are already proving to be very popular.

Dr. Schreiber says: "Leading breast implant manufacturer, Mentor, is now making a new breast implant filled with a smoother form of their existing silicone gel. The implants are also filled with more silicone to add to the softness of the implant while maintaining a beautiful shape."

The difference in material, being extra smooth, is one of the key things that this implant is known for, setting it apart from other implants. They are also available in high profile shapes, as well as moderate plus shapes. Indeed, they range in size from just 100cc all the way up to 800cc, so women can truly choose what they feel will be best for them.

Dr. Jeffrey Schreiber is highly respected by his peers for his dedication to always offering the best quality procedures and keeping his knowledge up to date with the latest tools and technologies. He is also loved by his patients at the Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center. They have all been incredibly pleased with his professionalism, understanding, and fantastic bedside manners. This is made evident in the many positive reviews he has received. Jenny Y., for instance, says on Facebook: "Words cannot express how amazing Dr. Schreiber and his office staff are. To put it simply you don't just feel like another patient, you feel like his only patient, that's how personable, dedicated and compassionate he is. He is attentive and was available whenever I needed him before, during, and after my surgery."

Dr. Schreiber is registered with and licensed by the American Society of Plastic Surgeons. This further guarantees his commitment and dedication to quality of work. The Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center looks forward to completing many more procedures using the new breast implant. In fact, Dr. Schreiber, who has been performing breast implant procedures for a long time, feels they are the best implants available on the market to date.
