MD Longevity is proud to announce that they now offer telomere length treatments at their two locations in 450 Sutter St Suite 1800, San Francisco, CA 94108 and in New York City. Telomere length is a determinant of the onset and severity of disease. It has also been determined that measuring them and treating them so they return to the appropriate length, can leave people living healthier lives overall.

All patient telomere length profiles are reported in relationship to age-matched controls and are available for all age ranges from pediatric to geriatric. This telomere reference curve was established by the study of over 800 healthy individuals between birth and 100 years of age. This more informative technique allows analysis and comparison of the telomere length between different cell types and within one cell type, e.g. in differentiating between constitutional deficiencies and cell type specific deficiencies.

Such studies have shown that the telomere length declines with age, and follows distinct patterns in T cells, B cells and hematopoietic precursor cells. Longitudinal studies of hematopoietic stem cell transplantation have shown a rapid telomere length decline in the first year after transplant followed by stabilization. Those who are in New York City can visit Dr. Ann Peters office at 110 E 55th St, New York, NY 10022.

TA-65 is the only proven telomerase activator on the market. It is a single small organic molecule that is obtained by ultra-purifying and concentrating one of the many bioactive compounds found in the astragalus root. Note that analyses of other astragalus extracts found in health food stores have shown they do not contain any TA-65. (The testing assay is accurate to one part per million.) It is sold as a nutritional supplement and not as a drug. It activates telomerase and this helps keep cells functioning in a normal and healthy way as people age.

TA-65 is proving to be incredibly popular and people who have used it have reported on the benefits they have experienced. Bob W., a 69 year old Seattle, WA resident, for instance, says: "After 9 months of taking TA-65, I am very pleased: Not one bad day and incredible feeling of well-being, darker and thicker hair, smoother and younger looking skin. I just feel younger and more energetic. At 69 I am passing for 55 or below."
