Record Peak Designs Inc. is a business in Northport, WA that focuses on offering products that enhance the capabilities of smartphones and other such devices. They have now announced that their popular large Claw tripod is listed as the perfect unique and fun gift idea for the couple that travels.

Robert McClelland, spokesperson for the company, says: "While it is always romantic to give roses and chocolates to a significant other, why not offer something a bit more original and practical? Our large Claw tripod is a fantastic tool for anyone who loves photography. It is also lightweight and easy to bring along on one's travels. As such, it also offers a great opportunity to take romantic pictures of two people for a change."

The Claw is an easy to set up, instant tripod. It comes with flexible legs that can wrap around anything. The large model is designed to hold large smartphones and tablets in either portrait or landscape mode without falling over or bending. It also comes with a Bluetooth remote control that allows people to get the perfect photo from a distance.

There are many other products by Record Peak, all of which are part of the trademarked Claw line. They include a rechargeable Bluetooth remote and an iPhone screen protector, for instance. They make for equally good gifts and must-have items for travelers in particular, but the tripod is likely to be the most appreciated gift. Robert McClelland adds: "Every year, we hear stories of men in particular getting their significant others completely the wrong thing. You simply cannot go wrong with the Claw tripod, however. Add some chocolates and roses and you truly cannot miss."

The large Claw has recently been released as an alternative to the original Claw tripod. Since mobile devices and other such tools have been growing in size and weight, it was necessary to develop something that had the strength to hold such devices. Those who have purchased the new Claw tripod have been very happy with the improved design.
