June 16, 2015

June 16, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cammile Q is happy to announce that their neem oil is now available on Amazon. This is the latest addition to Cammile Q's line of natural oils for skin and hair.

The company's neem oil is a high-quality oil. It is 100 % natural, and the oil is cold pressed to preserve the nutrients and active ingredients in the oil.

«We are happy to finally launch our neem oil to a larger audience when we now launch the oil on Amazon,» said Sarah Davis. With Amazon, we are reaching a lot of people with our oils for skin and hair. The neem oil is a great addition to our line of natural beauty products. We know many use neem oil for their skin and hair with great results, and now many more will have the opportunity to try out this great oil.»

Neem oil is an oil that is pressed from the seeds of the neem tree. The oil is often used in different cosmetic products such as soap, creams and hair products, due to its treatment capabilities. Traditionally the oil is used for treating acne and other skin conditions. Neem has a strong smell, so it is often diluted before it is applied to the skin.

«We know that the oil has a strong smell, but more and more people are starting to use the oil for their skin in despite of the smell. That is because they see so great results for their skin,» said Davis. «We recommend that the neem oil is mixed with another carrier oil before applied to the skin. The active ingredients in the oil are so strong that it is no problem diluting the oil.»

The oil is available in the US market on Amazon. It will also be available to buy on Cammile Q's website.
