

Boise Wedding Caterers Open Table Catering Launches Mouth Watering New Menu

June 24, 2015

June 24, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Open Table Boise Catering, a catering business in Boise, Idaho, has launched their brand new menu today. As a wedding caterer, they wanted to release a menu that was inclusive not just of all likes and dislikes, but also of all dietary requirements. They hope that their new menu will ensure even more people will be able to have an amazing wedding day, or any other type of event.

One of the things that really sets the menu of the Boise wedding caterers apart is that they offer local and organic food. They feel that, since they offer catering in Boise, they should also support the Boise economy as much as they can. Additionally, organic food has been scientifically proven to be healthier, as well as simply tasting better. Additionally, every meal on their menu is made from scratch by chef April Hale.

Indeed, positive reviews of the caterer mention how much this has been appreciated. "I've worked with April and Open Table Catering several times for various events", says Tristan Van Slyke from the U.S. Green Building Council - Idaho Chapter. "We appreciate her generous support of local food sourcing and local organizations like us, the USGBC-Idaho Chapter. She does a great job with a unique variety of dishes and flavors that are appropriate for the event and venue."

Open Table Catering is also happy to work together with wedding planning professionals to make sure the entire event goes by without a hitch. They understand just how much work planning a wedding is and how devastating it is if even one thing goes wrong. The Boise Caterer strives to make sure the food provided is perfectly presented and prepared. Because of this, they have also won numerous awards.

To date, they have been featured on Kara's Party Ideas and Bridal Musings and other prominent bridal magazines, websites and organizations (TWWP, the knot, Wedding Lady, Rocky Mountain Bride 2014 and 2015, Oregon Bride and Idaho Event Professionals). In terms of awards, they won the Excellence in Customer Satisfaction Talk of the Town Winner, which is a very prestigious award and shows just how good they are at planning an event together with their clients.

Again, this is something that customers have noticed and really appreciate. "Thank you for all of your hard work not only preparing, serving and accommodating our guests for our wedding reception, but for really helping me navigate the wedding planning process!", says Carly and Kyle, who married in 2013. "I appreciate your help when I frantically called or emailed with concerns as well as your recommendations and advice. We loved the food and that we were so well cared for!"

Open Table Catering Boise, which is fully organic and locally sourced, is hoping their new menu choices will make clients even happier.
