

Waterbury Connecticut Area Chevrolet Dealership Stocks Colorado ZR2

February 14, 2018

February 14, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Northwest Hills Cadillac, a dealer of Chevrolet Colorado trucks in Connecticut, is proud to announce that they have a fantastic selection of the Colorado ZR2 in stock. This vehicle was named Truck of the Year by Cars.com and became, unsurprisingly, one of the most popular vehicles of its kind since then. While Northwest Hills has significant stock available, interest is high and they are selling rapidly.

President and General Manager Sean Sullivan, says: "The Chevrolet Colorado is a fantastic truck, especially with the ZR2 trim level. From off-roading to weekend projects to daily driving, you can go pretty much anywhere and do anything with this truck. We're proud to be able to offer truck shoppers all over the state this incredibly versatile and dependable truck."

The Chevrolet Colorado ZR2 is the latest 2018 model. It stands out for its distinctive interior and exterior features. Many feel it looks like something that people would build themselves, with its suspension lift, bigger tires and wheels and departure and approach angles, new types of locking systems, racing shocks on the corner, and so on. It is the first time that Chevrolet has done something like this, as they are known for their conservative vehicles instead.

The Colorado ZR2 stands out because it clearly has all the technology expected not just from Chevrolet but also from modern vehicles, while at the same time showing the passion that went into its design. The result is something that is both functional and fun. While it is a 4x4 off road vehicle, it functions just as well as a standard pickup, with its superior strength and loading capabilities.

The Chevrolet dealership in Connecticut is incredibly excited about this vehicle. It is the first time that Chevy has created anything like this, and it has made people excited about the future. Those looking for used or new models of the ZR2 are encouraged to come visit Northwest Hills Cadillac as soon as possible to see the available models and trims. It is possible to take the vehicle for a test drive to see what all the excitement is about.
