

Kordata Announces Release of Mobile Data Collection Protective Coatings FastStart Free Trial

February 20, 2018

February 20, 2018 -
Kordata announced today the release of Kordata FastStart Protective Coatings Free Trial. Protective coating companies looking for mobile data collection and reporting solutions will find the Kordata FastStart Protective Coatings to be highly flexible and customizable for their workflow during surface preparation, coating application and inspection. Personnel will be able to collect and document inspection sample data for specific projects. Included in Kordata?s FastStart templates is a Safety Meeting module to allow for documentation of daily safety meetings that keep companies protected from liability and compliant with industry regulations.

Kordata?s FastStart platforms allow companies to quickly implement a customized mobile data collection solution tailored to their specific data collection needs, workflow and reporting requirements without the high cost of development.

?While attending SSPC 2018 annual conference in New Orleans, our team benefited from conversations with industry experts who loved our new FastStart program,? said Erin Hutchison. While at the show Kordata showcased the Protective Coating FastStart. Kordata is now offering a Free Trial of this platform to a demonstrate how quickly an organization can get up and running. Kordata has included a sample project in order to see the types of data that can be collected as well as, sample reports, for both surface preparation and coating application. In addition to the sample project, the Kordata Protective Coatings FastStart Free Trial provides the ability to add your own sample project to become familiar with the environment and the workflow.

Replacing paper-based processes with a comprehensive mobile solution can quickly minimize the number of data collection errors, reduce the cost of redundant data entry, and reduce the time required for creating customized reports, therefore realizing an immediate ROI.

Kordata recognizes the importance of belonging to trade associations as a source of industry education and training, access to innovations and new developments, enhanced benefits programs, and access to certification and licensing programs as well as many other benefits. Kordata offers discounts to members of various trade associations to increase the benefits of these valuable memberships.
