LeClassiqueShop is proud to announce that they have exceeded 1,400 five star reviews for their TrunkCratePro Collapsible Portable Multi Compartments Trunk Organizer. The reviews are mostly positive such that the overall rating of the product is 4.8 out of 5 stars. The reviews are a testament not just to their high quality products, but also to their excellent customer service and overall dedication to excellence. People are encouraged to review the link to Amazon.com product page for further information.

Robert Donelli from LeClassiqueShop says: "We are very proud of the work that we do and are happy to see that our customers appreciate it. We believe in ensuring that everybody gets the best quality service at all times, and that every product we deliver is of the greatest standard. Receiving so many positive testimonials from our happy clients is absolutely wonderful and we can't thank them enough."

The company is equally proud of the fact that they always look for ways to improve their offerings. Hence, they have added new features to the Trunkcratepro: the triple stitching, straps, and velcro cover. These allow for even heavier loads, added stability and cover for existing velcro when not in use. The updated version has also been featured in a new promotional video, which can be seen through the link to TrunkCratePro brand on YouTubeChannel.

In the reviews, people have praised the size of the product and the fact that it feels very strong and rigid. They have also commented on its versatility, allowing them to organize their trunk in a variety of ways. Some customers have also explained how the TrunkCratePro has made their professional life much easier. "Love this organizer. It's huge. I clean houses and was looking for something to hold extra cleaning supplies. This thing holds a ton of stuff. The exterior has pockets for smaller items....," says an Amazon customer.

People are encouraged to view the link to LeClassiqueShop website for further information. They have a wealth of products available that have all received a great number of positive reviews. This truly reflects the quality of their products and services. Customers are also always encouraged to contact the company should they have any queries or concerns. Customer service lies at the heart of all of LeClassiqueShop's operations and they are ready to resolve any issue.
