

Dunloor Says Jeeves Wine Bottle Stopper 4 Pack Is One Of The Best On The Market

June 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Emily Baxter, spokesperson for the company Dunloor, is stating that their Jeeves Wine Bottle Stopper is currently one of the best Bottle Stoppers with 3 Sealing Rings around the Stopper and Patented Valve Design. The bottle stopper pack contains 4 units and is being sold by Dunloor on Amazon.

Emily Baxter also stated that customers can expect excellent quality when they buy this product, as its three sealing rings and patented valve design ensures that air does not seep back into the bottle. This is excellent news for wine lovers as they know that it will help to keep the remaining wine fresh and flavorsome for many days. Emily added that their wine bottle stopper is also very versatile as it can be used on most wine bottle vacuum pumps.

There are currently over 50 reviews on Amazon, with most of them providing positive feedback. One customer wrote the following review on Amazon: "These wine stoppers are wonderful! I can now have multiple bottles of wine open without worrying that they will go bad. Previously, I purchased the wine pump which had two stoppers, but with the holidays approaching I knew I would need more than that. They are easy to place in the bottle even if you aren't using the pump. I have placed them in a bottle and put it in the refrigerator without removing the air. Three days later, the wine was still fresh and did not have any unusual taste to it. One of the bottles was knocked over, but didn't spill or even leak. These are a must for people who like multiple types of wine or if you are worried that you can't finish the bottle."

Open wine bottles, if left open for longer than necessary, can lead to the wine starting to go off and losing its flavour. For example, the bacteria in the air, over time will turn the alcohol into vinegar. The air also oxidizes the wine and can quickly result in a dull taste in most wines. The Jeeves Wine Bottle Stoppers contain three sealing rings that prevent the air from leaking back into the pumped out wine bottle, which stops many of these problems from occurring.

Another customer wrote the following review on Amazon: "These wine stoppers work well as just a regular wine stopper but I bought them in addition to the Jeeves Wine Preserver as additional stoppers. The Jeeves Wine Preserver does an excellent job but I did not think two stoppers was enough because I like to have several wine varieties on the go at the same time. They were a great addition to my collection and I would recommend them to anyone that is thinking of buying the Jeeves Wine Preserver or already has it."

To show how much confidence they have in their product, Dunloor is also offering a lifetime, no hassle, free replacement guarantee to all of their customers. For shoppers who would like to get more information about the Jeeves Wine Bottle Stopper 4 Pack are encouraged to visit the company's Amazon storefront. Where they can read the reviews written by customers who have already bought the product.
