

Burton Dunn To Chair Alabama Law Institute Committee

March 19, 2018

March 19, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

5 Points Law Group, based in Birmingham, AL, is proud to announce that Burton Dunn has been appointed to the Alabama Law Institute's committee in charge of revising the Alabama guardianship and conservatorship statutes. Burton Dunn is the founder of the 5 Points Law Group and is an active member of the National Guardianship Association. He is proud and honored to have been chosen to serve on the committee.

He says: "I am very excited to work with the committee. I firmly believe that the work we do will be impactful. As an active member of the National Guardianship Association, revising those statutes is very close to my heart and I hope that I can make a real difference where it matters the most."

The committee is part of the Alabama Law Institute, which in turn is part of the Alabama Legislative Services Agency. As stated on their website, this agency "exists to provide non-partisan professional services support to the Alabama Legislature." It was established by Act 2017-214 for the provision of legal, fiscal, and code revisions services to the Alabama Legislature. Furthermore, "the Legislative Services Agency succeeds to and is vested with all of the functions of the Alabama Law Institute, Legislative Fiscal Office, and Legislative Reference Service." Burton Dunn's role will be to support this work and ensure that due diligence is followed at all times.

The 5 Points Law Group, meanwhile, focuses on a myriad of different areas of law. These include employment law, family law, and estate planning and probate law. Estate planning and probate law is Burton Dunn's personal area of expertise. He explains: "I bring the attention to detail and knowledge of intricacies of this area of the law that are vital to successfully navigating complex probate matters such as conservatorships and guardianships, contested wills and trusts, and estate planning. I am also experienced in navigating the bureaucracies of Veterans Affairs, Medicare, Medicaid, and Social Security."

For further information, people are encouraged to review Burton Dunn on LinkedIn. This provides details on his background and education, as well as his passion and drive for the law in Alabama and conservatorships and guardianship in particular.
