July 02, 2015 -
In light of the recent spike in septum clicker sales, New York's BodyCandy.com invites everyone to add more edge and personality to their style through having a septum piercing or septum clickers. BodyCandy is a brand that specializes in body jewelry ranging from belly button rings to 14kt gold nose rings.

BodyCandy.com has noticed the high trend of individuals getting a septum piercing and septum clickers. As the number of septum piercing jewelry sales began to rise over the past few months, a spokesperson for BodyCandy.com stated: "We are getting a lot of good feedback on our septum clickers. Our online store has been filled with requests for more septum piercing jewelry, to which we have responded to by creating high-quality jewelry for both men and women. BodyCandy.com wants to get our jewelry out there, and hopefully spread the message?nose rings are in and are definitely cool!"

The jewelry company takes pride in offering only quality jewelry in a variety of price ranges to suit everyone's needs. On their BodyCandy Body Jewelry Facebook page, the jewelry brand lists its set of products that cater to every individual's needs. The septum clickers have become popular as more and more people are getting their noses pierced. Because of this, BodyCandy now offers all septum piercing jewelry for sale on its Septum Piercing Jewelry BodyCandy Body Jewelry Pinterest page.

Septum piercing jewelry and septum clickers come in a variety of shapes, styles, and sizes. One of the best selling products in this category is the Alluring Faux Opal and Light Purple Gem Septum Clicker. Made from alluring imitation opal and lavender gems, it is one of the most sought-after septum clickers.

The recent popularity in septum piercing and septum clickers is attributed to the many celebrities and music personalities sporting said jewelry. It's predictable how people would follow suit. As BodyCandy.com's numbers indicate, the popularity of septum piercing jewelry is only starting to take off. Customer feedback has been positive, as more and more orders are being placed online on BodyCandy's website. Local New York residents seen with septum piercings say that "it's becoming a common thing, not like a trend that will die anytime soon."

Currently, the BodyCandy website is getting satisfied reviews from fashion-forward customers. One satisfied customer who purchased BodyCandy's bestselling septum clicker shared her experience and left a 5-star rating:

"At first I was skeptical on getting a septum clicker because I was worried people will question its authentic feel, it being something that I would only "click on" to attach. Then I realized everyone was doing it, and it's okay. It's a matter of style. I love BodyCandy septum clickers because they are both classy and edgy."

BodyCandy.com is poised to create septum piercing jewelry in different styles, colors, and shapes to cater to everyone's style.
