"To receive implants, you need to have healthy gums and adequate bone to support the implant," says Beato. "Having LANAP and LAPIP protocols to be easily accessible has become an urgent necessity due to the surging number of people receiving dental implants."

According to the American Academy of Implant Dentistry, the dental implants segment is expected to reach $4.2 billion for US and European markets in the next four years. An estimated 500,000 people have implants placed each year.

The LANAP=LAR (laser-assisted regeneration) results in true periodontal regeneration, new bone growth and gum tissue reattachment. It is one of the most successful protocols in treating gum disease.

The LAPIP protocol is the only patient-friendly, predictable solution for ailing implants. Studies indicate 95% of the failing implants treated with the LAPIP protocol have reintegrated in the pocket and stabilized with a bone growth of 3-8 threads.
