March 16, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

For more than 10 years, Biohazard Cleanup USA, based in Houston, TX, has offered the highest quality of biohazard cleanup, crime scene cleanup, caring trauma service, hoarding cleanup, suicide cleanup, unattended death cleanup, and other services. They are known for their ability to work compassionately and sensitively with people going through traumatic and difficult situations. They are proud to announce that they now have a team of live operators on board who are on standby 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Alexander Felsch from Biohazard Cleanup USA says: "When you call our team, regardless of the time of day or night, you will be dealt with in a very professional and discreet manner, as we know how hard it can be in your trying time. We have expert cleanup specialists and crews that are typically within minutes from your house or company. They are always prepared to assist at any moment's notice."

The company gives the best crime scene cleanup Houston has to offer as it has all the industry's most advanced certifications and they adhere to the highest standards and guidelines for specific situations. Their expert specialists pride themselves on listening to their clients' special circumstances, handling their needs the right way from the very start. Alexander Felsch adds: "Our company's high standards have made us the leading source of crime scene cleanup, biohazard cleanup, and hoarding cleanup experts in the industry."

Just some of the services provided by the company include the cleanup of crime scene, suicide, blood, vehicle blood, and unattended death, as well as odor removal, infectious disease decontamination, hoarding cleanup, mold remediation, water remediation, meth lab cleaning, teargas cleanup, asbestos abatement, lead paint removal, fingerprint powder removal, sewage waste removal, animal waste removal, and forensic cleanup. For convenience, the company accepts a wide range of payment options, including insurance coverage, which is available for the majority of their services. Someone in the response team is always on call to answer any questions anyone may have.

Alexander Felsch says: "We are always there to help you and are dedicated to your safety and security, as we are with everyone we do business with. You can depend on our licensed and trained trauma cleanup experts to help you deal with your situation."
