

Qi Tribe Unveils Their Ultimate 2.0 Hydration Packs For Runners

December 30, 2015

December 30, 2015 -
Qi Tribe, a sports and outdoors equipment company and advocate of healthy, quality and active lifestyle, now adds the Ultimate 2.0 Hydration Backpack to its list of featured products. The Qi Hydration Pack is hands-free and makes hydration easy and comfortable without the hassle of carrying bulky water bottles.

A spokesperson for Qi Tribe says, "We are very committed to delivering the highest quality of service to each of our customers who patronize Qi Tribe's products. And we take pride in becoming a part of the activities of outdoor enthusiasts enjoying life with a healthy passion." The spokesperson says of the Qi Hydration Pack, "It is specifically designed for efficiency and total comfort, allowing extended hours in the outdoors. Bring the hydration pack running, jogging, cycling or trekking as it is also worn in superior comfort with its lightweight padded mesh shoulder straps and breathable mesh back panel."

The Qi Hydration Backpack is considered to be the ultimate in hydration packs as it comes with a high grade 2-Litre, BPA-free, military-grade, insulated hydration bladder that is 4-mm thick. The hydration bladder uniquely has a wide mouth opening making cleaning easy. The sip tube is suitably heavy duty with a cushioned bite valve and, to prevent leaks, has a twist lock. The top-load hydration compartment additionally makes refilling quick and on-the-go. Loading it with ice cubes, water or sports drinks is a cinch. The hydration pack comes with easily accessible 3 zipper pouches of ample size to conveniently and safely carry valuables along such as mobile phones, wallets, quick snacks, clothing, sunscreen, tools and other outdoor essentials.

J. Kruz, in his review of his recent Qi Hydration Backpack purchase, says,"This is the second hydration bladder I've tested in a month or so. This one comes with a pack designed specifically for this bladder. This is a very nice set up, sleek and narrow." He further says, "This backpack is put together well and all seams and joints are sound. There is good padding between your back and the hydration bladder and it is insulated all the way around so your ice won't melt as fast. This is a very capable hydration bladder and backpack. Unless you're extraordinarily hard on it, it should last very long."

Additionally, the Qi Hydration Pack features removable and adjustable straps that go around the waist for stability. It allows the pack to stay put and not lift unnecessarily when an outdoor activity requires traversing uneven terrain. The backpack itself is slim and lightweight and functions as a slim pack by removing the hydration bladder. With Qi Tribe's Ultimate 2.0 Hydration Pack Backpack, outdoor enthusiasts can optimize performance and endure the outdoors longer by staying comfortably hydrated.
