The Top Dog Deals was recently contacted by a customer with a request to add the Schnauzer zone to their website. After doing so, they only had a limited number of items available in the collection. They have now announced that they have been able to expand the said collection and that new items have been added and continue to be added regularly.

A spokesperson for The Top Dog Deals says: "We add zones based on different dog breeds following customer requests. Once those zones have been added, we set about finding items to offer within each category. However, we focus strongly on high quality, which means it can sometimes take a little bit of time before more items are included. We're happy that our Schnauzer collection is now expanding rapidly."

Initially, the Schnauzer Zone only included a no pull harness, which The Top Dog Deals has available for all different breeds of dogs, as it is based on size. Now, they have been able to add a Schnauzer car sticker, pendant with chain, and rings. The rings are particularly unique and the company is proud to have been able to add those. The representative explains: "We have found a new jewelry supplier that manufactures rings based on dog breeds and we love them. We're happy to see that many of our customers have already purchased these rings and we can't wait to hear back from them."

The full Schnauzer Zone collection is also available on the company's Pinterest page. Each item can be pinned individually so that people can save the things that they like and find related items. Indeed, this is one of the ways in which The Top Dog Deals is able to find additional products and items to add to each collection, albeit only after extensive quality testing.

People who have purchased any of the Schnauzer items are encouraged to share images of their purchases on Instagram with appropriate hash tags. The spokesperson says: "We love nothing more than to see how people have used our products and we also love seeing images of all our doggie friends. Please keep sharing."
