Las Vegas, NV based health and nutrition business St. Regis Labs has just released their new healthy hair supplement which has been shown to grow stronger and thicker hair on Amazon. The product can be found here on Amazon.com.

To celebrate the launch of the product, it is available at a 50% discount for a limited time only. This means it now costs just $12.50, instead of the usual $24.99. It is hoped that this will encourage even more people to try the already popular product, as well as being a method of saying thank you to customers intending to return for further purchases.

"Our supplement has been designed to help hair grow stronger, thicker and faster", says Ron Rose, CEO of St. Regis Labs. "It contains a number of different vitamins, as well as Ginko Biloba and Biotin, which are all designed to make hair healthier and more lustrous. It can also be used by men and women alike."

St. Regis Labs is a reasonably new start up company. They are focusing on the supplement market and all of their products currently sell on Amazon. Any products they intend to add in the future, will focus on health and nutrition, emphasizing the particular benefits of vitamin supplements. Furthermore, they intend to market a range of other health and beauty products as well.

The Biotin enhanced hair supplement has only been available for a short period of time, but it is already gaining in popularity. It seems that hair, the so-called 'crowning beauty,' is something that people genuinely care about. Thanks to the St. Regis Labs product, more people can enjoy beautiful, shiny hair as well as helping them to grow their hair quicker. The product also helps to prevent hair from becoming brittle and dry.

The company truly believes in the quality of their product and only want to market the best of the best. "Anyone who tries our product and is not 100% satisfied will get their money back, no questions asked," adds Ron Rose. "We know that people will notice the difference within a short time and are likely to come back for more to keep the beauty of their hair."
