

Copper Infusion Pro Launches With Copper Compression Knee Sleeve As First Product

April 02, 2018

April 02, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Copper Infusion Pro, a business in Glasgow, Scotland, United Kingdom, is proud to announce the launching of their company with the copper compression knee sleeve as their first product. They want to point out that copper is an essential mineral for a person's wellbeing and wearing copper has been a historic remedy recorded in The Smith Papyrus, an ancient Egyptian medical book.

Lesley Franssen from Copper Infusion Pro says: "We are a UK based compression design wear company who provide copper infused compression wear and joint support wear which is designed for active sports and everyday activities. The copper infused design idea comes from our passion for natural remedies as a long term solution to medication."

As a relatively new company, Copper Infusion Pro has started their compression wear range with the copper infused knee support brace. Their aim is to develop the compression wear range using only the most innovative and best quality designs to provide their customers with a natural long term solution to joint pain. The copper compression knee sleeve is the first product, but it is expected that many more will follow. Lesley Franssen explains: "Our range is aimed as much at athletes, sports men/woman as supporting normal everyday people trying to lead an active life pain free."

The company has a clear brand vision, which is to empower people through innovative design and passion in all that they do. They aim to create the latest designs in technology and provide the best quality control with their products. According to Lesley Franssen: "At Copper Infusion Pro we only design clothing that will help your body and daily functioning. We take pride in our products and delight in serving our amazing customers and building your trust in us."

Customers who have purchased the copper compression knee sleeve are encouraged to leave a review on the company's Facebook page. They aim to build a community of people who have benefited from using copper compression, enabling customers to join in the conversation, share their knowledge, and discuss their experiences in relation to the healing properties of copper. Lesley Franssen adds: "Our overall aim is to make sure nobody has to live in pain. If you have some great tips to share, make sure you do so."

###

For more information about Copper Infusion Pro, contact the company here: Copper Infusion Pro Lesley Franssen UK 07737 033887 lesley.franssen2003@gmail.com 272 Bath St., Glasgow Scotland G2 4JR

Copper Infusion Pro

We are a compression design wear company who provide copper infused compression and joint support wear for active sports and everyday activities.

Website: <http://www.copperinfusionpro.com>

Email: lesley.franssen2003@gmail.com

Phone: UK 07737 033887