Jackpot Candles of Amherst, NY, makers of high quality, earth-friendly candles are now offering a unique sensory experience not just through its rich aromas and scents, but also through a visual surprise: a beautiful piece of jewelry inside the candle. "Our candles are not just meant to satisfy your sense of smell alone," says its spokesman. "We wanted our customers to have a much broader sensual experience of our product by adding a visual treat once they have used up the candles themselves."

Jackpot Candles are hand-poured candles made from 100% natural soy. Their scents range from bold, distinctive fragrances to aromas of freshly-baked holiday cookies and pies or the fresh, clean scent of mountain breezes and spring flowers. "When you smell them, you feel like your home gets transformed into a relaxing and comfortable haven of tranquility." says Nicole Szymanski of Jackpot Candles.

However, it doesn't end there. "It's only the first part of the experience," says Nicole. "Once you've finished enjoying the aroma of the candle, you'll get a foil-wrapped, pre-selected jewelry item inside the candle itself. Each jewelry piece (or "Jackpot" as we like to call them) is valued at $15 to $5,000!"

What do customers have to say about what sets Jackpot Candles apart from the other jewelry candle companies? "Unlike other jewelry filled candles, Jackpot Candles lets you choose the type of jewelry you want to find inside: earrings, necklaces or rings! I chose an earring candle because I have so many necklaces and I wear such a small ring size that I was worried about the ring fitting." Says Amy. A natural scent throw plus you get to pick the jewelry you want? What's not to love?! "Just try Jackpot Candles jewelry candles!" says Nicole. "Our product works just like any candle scented with essential oils. Just burn it and enjoy the fragrance. After buring for a couple hours, you'll see a foil wrapped pouch with a jewelry piece inside. Don't touch it at first. We often advise our customers to extinguish the candle and allow a short time for cooling before they get the jewelry just to be on the safe side. Still, others couldn't wait and get them even while the candle is still burning. Well, we're not surprised. It's not often you get to find jewelry in an scented soy candle before."
