Igo Enterprises LLC, or Igowego, based in Norwood, MA, is a newly launched business. They are now proud to announce the launch of their flagship product, the portable laptop table. The product is available through both the company's website and the Amazon marketplace.

Kerry Igo, owner and founder of Igo Enterprises LLC, says: "We are your one stop guide for convenience on the go. Igowego does all the work to find superior products to support your fast paced lifestyle."

Kerry Igo founded the company together with a group of other busy professionals who have families but are always on the go. Together, they combined their passion for finding products that enabled them to have a better work-life balance. The portable laptop table is the first product they have launched to make this possible, and they have since also introduced the oversized laptop carrying case, which fits the laptop table.

"We want to make sure none of our clients are ever left behind," continues Kerry Igo. "Our aim is to make sure people can find products that enhance their busy lifestyles, removing some of the obstacles and barriers to being able to do it all. We understand that life is hectic and want to do all we can to help our clients find a greater balance between their work and their family life."

As part of the company's launch, Igowego has developed the company website, created their Amazon shopfront, and opened their Facebook page. They encourage people to like the latter so that they can become part of a community of like-minded individuals. Additionally, further details about the portable laptop table and other products are listed on the Facebook page and it enables people to ask questions and make suggestions themselves.

"We want to hear from you," says Kerry Igo. "We know what it's like to be busy and we truly believe our products will make things easier. We would love to hear about your experiences with them. And we equally encourage you to simply engage in conversation with us, particularly if we share something that you had a personal experience with."
