They want to ensure that everyone is able to breathe safely and to use their fires and other equipment in an efficient manner. This is work that the company has been highly praised for by their many customers. Sherri Z., for instance, says on Facebook: "He spent the first hour fighting a huge wasp nest under our chase top that he was replacing on the roof. Even after being sprayed with insecticide, there were many returning angry wasps that would not give up. I told him to leave it and he could come back another day to do that part of the job, but Greg was determined. He finished the job while I stood by with a water hose to chase off returning wasps."

The Doodlebuggers Service Network has become a true member of the overall Pensacola community and people are very excited about their new location in Destin as well. The company has proven itself to be professional and reliable, as well as putting the emphasis on offering the best customer service possible.
