April 17, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cruvina, providers of shatterproof plastic glassware, announced today that their set of four Tritan plastic cocktail glasses can be used to safely serve drinks at a Cinco de Mayo party.

Cinco de Mayo is a popular Mexican holiday observed throughout the United States by celebrating Mexican culture, art, dance, food and drink. It is not a celebration of Mexican independence, as is often mistakenly thought. It commemorates a historic battle in the Franco- Mexican War (1861-1867) in which the Mexican militia bested the premier army of the time - Napoleon III's French Army in the town of Pueblo. The underequipped and outnumbered Mexican militia forced the French troops to retreat in just two hours. This accomplishment restored the pride of the Mexicans, which had suffered much over the years as a result of setbacks in their struggle for independence. The celebration of this feat and Mexican heritage became popular in America after President Roosevelt delivered his 1933 inaugural speech in which he enacted the "Good Neighbor Policy" to encourage good relations with Latin American countries.

"Cinco de Mayo parties are so much fun," says Cruvina Co-Founder Erin Moore. "The food is delicious, and so are the drinks. Margaritas, Sangrias, Palomas and Micheladas are just a few drinks that I like to serve. And I serve them in our plastic cocktail glasses because these not only look great, but won't shatter if accidentally dropped. So my friends and I can celebrate without worrying about shards."

Cruvina plastic cocktail tumblers are made from Tritan plastic by Eastman. This is a high-quality, food-grade, BPA-free polymer that looks like glass. The glasses are odor-resistant, stain-resistant and dishwasher-safe. They maintain their crystal clear look after repeated use and washing. The cocktail tumblers have an elegant design that fits comfortably in the hand. They were designed with anti-tipping technology and a comfortable spill-guard rim to help reduce the chance of spills. Because they are shatter-proof, these glasses can also be used to serve water, juice or soda to children. And for Cinco de Mayo, they can be used to serve Horchata, a cold beverage made of ground almonds, rice, barley or other nuts and seeds.

A set of four 14-ounce Cruvina cocktail glasses can be purchased on Amazon and comes with a 30-day money-back guarantee.
