April 20, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Lux Renovations, LLC New England's sole provider of the Owens Corning® Basement Finishing System®, have just launched a brand new website that focuses on providing the customer with a greater understanding of their product and the work they are known for completing throughout New England. Specifically, their focus is on basement refinishing and remodeling.

Paul Deguglielmo, President of Lux Renovations, LLC says: "We're very pleased with our new website and the way in which it presents our company. We've been in the basement business for over 20 years and to have a solid website that shows off the quality of our work and the attention to detail that we provide is critical today."

Lux Renovations, LLC has set itself apart as the best company of its kind in the area. They have completed a huge variety of work and over 7000 homeowners are enjoying their finished basement throughout New England. This is also evident from the countless reviews and testimonials that people have left. The company has helped people to transform their basements, turning them into warm and inviting spaces to be used and enjoyed. Not only does this make properties more functional, it also adds significant value to the home.

Some of the work that the company has completed includes transforming basements into entertainment spaces, offices, and workout rooms. The company is proud of the fact that they always deliver very quick work without ever compromising on quality. They offer all prospective clients a free, no obligation consultation, which people can request through the company's website at <https://ocboston.com>.

Being the only business in New England that offers the Owens Corning Basement Finishing System, the company is further able to guarantee the quality of its work. They also offer all clients a free basement finishing guide that provides them with more information on how to create the perfect basement space. Lux Renovations, LLC is an A+ rated company with the Better Business Bureau (BBB), is a Top Rated company with Home Advisor, and has been named in the Best of Houzz 2018 Service.
