Amazing.com recently released the Amazing Selling Machine (ASM) review of Angie Chacon, who went from a single mother stuck in her 9 to 5 job to a multi-million-dollar Amazon business owner. Angie longed for financial freedom and the ability to work anywhere, whether that was at home or traveling. After hearing her friends? stories about the Amazing Selling Machine course and their Amazon business success, Angie leveraged the ASM training to learn how to make money on Amazon and obtain the freedom she desired. Angie?s success story comes as Linkedin names Amazon the number one business on their 2018 Top Companies List.

Amazon recently announced Linkedin ranked Amazon as the number one business on its 2018 Top Companies list. Linkedin representatives who oversaw the 2018 rankings relayed that Amazon?s ability to help people build something and build something fast sets the company apart. Linkedin?s rankings are based on a company?s desirability among professionals. Amazon commits itself to putting their customers first by building outstanding teams.

In her Amazing.com video interview with Jason Katzenback, Angie explains how she studied the Amazing Selling Machine course on evenings and weekends while she worked her 9 to 5 job. After 6 months of selling and a continuous profit margin above 30%, Angie quit her job and relied solely on her Amazon business income. As her company grew, Angie opened her own manufacturing company in the United States to develop her products at the speed and quality she needed. Angie explains hiring employees to handle day to day activities helped her to focus on the big decisions she needed to make to grow her business fast. Angie attributes much of her success to the Amazing Selling Machine community, who helped answer her questions and provide her with strategies to grow her business.

Jeff Bezos founded Amazon in 1994. The company?s four guiding principles include customer obsession rather than competitor focus, commitment to operational excellence, long-term thinking, and passion for invention. Amazon has pioneered serves like 1-Click shipping, Prime, Fulfillment by Amazon, Fire TV, Alexa and Amazon Echo.

Amazing Selling Machine (ASM) is an Amazon business training course provided by Amazing.com. Through an 8-module web course, sellers learn how to launch their own business and sell physical products on Amazon. Sellers learn how to build and sustain an Amazon business with the help of a step-by-step guide. The course provides community, tools and resources to help those with no prior experience selling on Amazon.

Amazing.com was founded by Matt Clark and Jason Katzenback. It is located in Austin, Texas. Through the company?s online courses and live instruction, the company teaches entrepreneurs of all experience levels how to create a private label Amazon business. Their mission is to help sellers find financial freedom through the success of their own Amazon business.
