Prefab Metal Building Company Launches New Website

April 30, 2018

April 30, 2018 -
Houston Steel Building, based in The Woodlands, TX, is proud to announce the launch of their brand new website. The business has operating as a commercial steel building constructor in the Houston area since 2003. In conjunction with the launch of their new website, they have also engaged in a social media campaign.

Robert Ferguson from Houston Steel Building says: "We have been serving our commercial clients in Houston and the surrounding area for 15 years and felt it was time to improve on our website. Our new website is highly interactive and showcases who we are, what we stand for, and what we do. We're very happy with what the design team has come up with and would love to hear what you think as well."

The company focuses strongly on prefab metal buildings, for which they offer a number of turnkey services. These include design and planning, commercial engineering, commercial construction, erection services, interior buildout, commercial electrician services, commercial plumbing, and all other related sitework services. The company has also won numerous awards and certifications, making them one of the trusted companies of their kind in the area.

"Houston Steel Building is a locally owned and operated company serving the Houston and surrounding areas," continues Robert Ferguson. "We are steel building experts and your single source for commercial, industrial and residential steel and metal buildings. While our primary focus is commercial construction and industrial buildings, we also provide residential steel building homes, which are also commonly called barndominiums. Whether you need one-off services or a complete turnkey solution, we can handle all your project needs. We offer the most competitive steel building prices and metal building prices while offering the highest quality erection installation services."

Anyone requiring work on commercial steel buildings is encouraged to contact the company as soon as possible. They are happy to provide free, no obligation quotations for any job that needs doing. The company has built a solid reputation of being the best of its kind in Houston and surrounding areas and fully guarantee all work that they do. The new website highlights various key details.
