

Paradigm Partners Releases New Video Site For Commercial Property Owners of all sizes To Review Cost Segregation Studies

June 26, 2014

June 26, 2014 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Paradigm Partners (<http://www.paradigmlp.com>), the tax services firm for Fortune 500 companies, CPAs, entrepreneurs, real estate investors, manufacturers, restaurant owners, small businesses, and startups, is pleased to announce the addition of <http://www.CostSegregationStudyServices.com> video information website to their online knowledge base.

Allowable since 1997 due to a United States Tax Court ruling, Cost Segregation Studies are still only utilized by a small percentage of commercial property owners. Paradigm's goal is to teach more real estate investors why and how they should maximize this freely available IRS approved technique.

Once the exclusive domain of ultra-wealthy property owners and corporations, Cost Segregation Studies are now easily accessible for commercial property owners of all sizes and kinds. The new video site teaches commercial property owners why Cost Segregation Studies are one of the fastest and easiest ways to create cash flow now versus over a 30 to 40 year period of ownership. <http://www.CostSegregationStudyServices.com> visitors will also learn how to start and complete their study within 30 days.

With the intent of reaching commercial property owners of all sizes, from strip center owners all the way up to large investors like real estate investment trusts (REITS), Paradigm seeks to foster a culture of success and entrepreneurial passion within their client base by teaching them how to leverage government tax incentives that increase their bottom line. By saving money on taxes, Paradigm's clients gain the option of reinvesting the savings back into their property or using it for other purposes.
