Top Rated Argan Oil Sales Go Through The Roof

FoxBrim, a health and beauty business in Lake Alfred, FL, is proud to announce that their 100% pure organic argan oil has received over 1,000 reviews on Amazon and is now rated a five star product. Amazing customers are raving about their experience with the oil in its premium form. To celebrate, the company has released the oil with a 65% discount, meaning it now costs just $14.99, instead of the usual $42.97. This is as a way to say thank you to their many returning customers, as well as to encourage more people to try the various benefits of the oil.

"The benefits of argan oil have been well-documented over recent years and it is clear that people have been paying attention", says Troy Johnston from FoxBrim. "Our oil has literally been selling like hotcakes, which we believe is due to the fact that it is a true premium oil, setting it apart from lesser products making similar benefit claims. We want to thank everybody that has purchased from us by offering the special discount for a limited time only, and we hope that this will also attract new customers to our store."

Premium oil means that the oil is completely unrefined. It is also cold pressed and virgin. Finally, the oil is certified 100% organic and natural. This means not only that the biggest benefits of argan as a whole are still contained in the oil itself, but also that the planet has not been damaged at all during the manufacturing process of the product. Premium oils are clearly far superior to any other type of oil. Many products on the market today, for instance, will say that they are "natural" oils. However, unless they are actually certified organic, like the FoxBrim product, they will not be good for overall health or the planet in general.

The reviews on the product now top 1,000 and don't show any signs of stopping. "I normally use organic extra virgin coconut oil and Watts brand retinol + hyaluaronic acid on my face, but adding this argan oil to my regimen has totally boosted the results, and therefore, changed my skin", says K, one of the many Amazon reviewers. "The results were almost immediate, seriously!"

The Foxbrim website clearly explains what makes the product so special. They believe it is the most enriching and complete moisturizer out there that remains delicate at the same time. The premium oils contained in it are very high in fatty acids, antioxidants and vitamin E. As such, it is one of the most nutrient rich, all natural, certified organic moisturizers on the market today. Indeed, the company prides itself on being the only one that commercially sells argan oil of this purity.
